Top Ten Tips for Winterizing Your Home

Whether we like it or not, Old Man Winter is coming soon. While that might not be cause for concern for those of you down south, up here in the Midwest, it's a big deal! Typically winter means snow and ice and most of all...colder, much colder temperatures. Some people would rather be cold than warm...but not me, I'm focused on staying warm and cozy. Thinking about the upcoming season, I started conducting an assessment of my own home as to how I might ensure it is properly "winterized" and discovered some easy, affordable steps that were worth sharing.

Military One Source

Happy Holidays! We welcome you to the December edition of the Military OneSource eNewsletter. This month you'll find resources and tips to help you and your family thrive in the new year:

- Enjoy the holidays more with your children
- Keep your New Year resolutions
- Provide feedback on the Military OneSource beta website

Also, understand how the changes to the federal tax code may affect you.

The Military OneSource eNewsletter (<http://www.militaryonesource.mil/enewsletter>) is your source for timely, relevant military community information and resources that matter to you.

Who are the RISFAC coordinators?? Your local TFAC!

The Troop & Family Assistance Center (TFAC) is a conduit to resources and information for Service Members, Veterans and Military Families regardless of branch of service or veterans status. Whether those resources are financial, emotional or emergency assistance, we can connect you with those organizations and community groups that can assist you based on where you live. Our ultimate goal is to enable self sufficient military families.
